

U.S. Bankruptcy Court Judges in Brooklyn and Central Islip are participating in a conference calling system through which attorneys may appear by phone before the court. Hearings of any kind are eligible for this process.

While the court imposes no fees and there are no setup fees, there is a charge of 22 cents per minute for each participating attorney payable to the provider of the service, Eagle Teleconferencing. Additionally, all billable minutes incurred by the court (again at a rate of 22 cents per minute) will be billed to the participating attorneys.

For more information and to set up a required account, contact Eagle Teleconferencing at 1-800-778-6338, or visit www.EagleConf.com.
